RACING AT HARLEM.

Jockey Grimes' miserable ride on Prestar in the sixth race, which subsequently resulted in the boy being suspended, and more than probably will be the cause of his being ruled off the turf, was the sensational feature of a gloomy afternoon's sport at Harlem yesterday.

Prestar belongs to the firm of Leonard & Morgan and is trained by the former, who is an ex-jockey that rode at one time for Ed Corrigan. Besides Prestar, Leonard & Morgan own Loyalita, and in all past performances both horses have always been raced honestly.

Grimes is an obscure jockey under contract to G. B. Havill, he who owns Algareta, and at one time during the Washington Park meeting Mr. Havill declared in noisy terms that Grimes had been holding his horses, especially Algareta, but as the boy was only a novice at the riding game people laughed at Havill and made the old man believe he was mistaken about the boy's dishonesty and it was not because he was not trying but was simply because he was incompetent that the horses he rode never finished near the front. But judging from the Prestar ride and circumstances surrounding the same it might be possible that Mr. Havill was correct in his charges.

Prestar was in with Pay The Fiddler, Owensboro, and three others of the most common selling platers at the track. Still certain book-makers in the ring offered 3 to 1 straight, 6 to 5 place and 1 to 2 show against him. These liberal quotations caused much comment and long before the horses went to the post it was common talk that there was "nothing doing" on Prestar, and Grimes' ride fitted in with the gossip to perfection. The gelding broke third, but the boy at once started to pull up and continued to do so around the first turn. The consequences were that he succeeded in being ten lengths behind the third horse when going down the backstretch. Prestar was in fine fettle, however, and despite Grimes' effort in trying to "hold him" he managed to race up close to the leaders on the far turn, and here is where the boy got in his work. He evidently was not aware of the fact that a patrol judge was stationed on the turn and thinking the mist and fog too thick for the judges to see clearly from the stand took a powerful pull at Prestar, first taking him close to the rail and then yanking him to the outside. Notwithstanding this Prestar continued to move to the front and, fighting for his head, wound up in third place. It was a clear case of pull and the judges wasted no time in suspending the boy and will further investigate the race to-day.

The track was in the worst possible condition and for this reason the betting public took a chance on the Griffin entry, Hampshire and Hanswurst in the first event, simply because they had two horses running for them and strange to say, the pair ran one, two. The race was at three-quarters of a mile and it seemed a shame to ask two-year-olds to go that far in the deep sticky mud and it was certainly a weary lot of youngsters that came staggering home with Hampshire in front, Hanswurst second and Poyntz third. Ida V., heavily backed by those supposed to be "in the know," had an extremely rough journey and finished a staggering fourth.

Out of the second race, which was at three-quarters, came an extremely close finish, the first three horses being heads apart and strung out clear across the track. Irish Jewel, from the stable of Sam Wagner, and heavily backed at 4 to 1 and less, got the decision, with Olekma second and Tildy Ann third. The latter could not have lost but for a mistake made by jockey

Enos right at the end. The filly was coming fast under punishment, but Enos, mistaking the starter's box at the mile starting point for the timer's stand, proceeded to ease up, thereby being beaten two heads.

Four started in the jumping race and in spite of the heavy going all got safely over the obstacles but Last Past, who came to grief shortly after the start. Passe Partout, one of the best jumpers here, was favorite, and Gallagher rode him to advantage, taking him right to the front at the start. Once in the lead, Passe Partout had no trouble in remaining there, and he won easily. Viking jumped in good form, but he seemed to tire at the end, and Reno evidently did not like the going. The latter is not much at the jumping game, anyway, but Viking, if he continues to improve, ought to be placed where he can win before long.

Tyr seems to be a cracking good colt in the mud, and under a good ride beat Pat Dunne's Sortie like cracking sticks in the fourth race. Bloss got Tyr off in front and the son of Kingston—Miss Dixie led all the way, eventually winning by an open length. Buchanan, with Sortie, started through on the inside at the head of the stretch, but was cleverly impeded by Bloss, who pulled Tyr in on them.

Miss Dooley, at a liberal price, romped home the easiest kind of a winner in the fifth event. This filly loves the mud and made a show of her field. Blue Dan, the favorite for the race, was ridden by an incompetent jockey named R. Jackson, and finished just outside the money, while the second choice, San Venado, was last but one.

Mrs. F. Zuehlke has purchased Fox Bard from E. B. Kinder for $700.

Sam Hildreth is on his way to Hawthorne with a stable of twenty-five horses, which is the largest racing outfit that has visited a Chicago track this year. P. M. Civill will arrive this morning from Windsor with six head, including Battus, Chappaqua, and "Senator" O'Brien will be here Monday from St. Louis with twelve head.

Owners and trainers who wish coupon books or season badges at Hawthorne will have to procure them at the secretary's office at the track Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Those who fail to procure them at that time will have to pay their way through the gates, as no badges will be issued during racing hours.

Entries for Monday's races will be received by Harry White at the Harlem track up to 10 o'clock this morning.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

A special dispatch to yesterday's Chronicle said: "The report that Prince Poniatowski had secured control of Tanforan and Ingleside tracks was confirmed today by Richard M. Tobin, a close friend of the titled turfman. Tobin said:

"Prince Poniatowski has obtained the controlling interest in the Ingleside and Tanforan tracks. Henry Crocker is out of the ownership. Prince Poniatowski bought the interests at cost from the others. Adolph Spreckels was agreeable to any deal that did not favor Corrigan. Walter Hobart and Charles Fair still retain their interests. Whether or not Corrigan has sold is not known.

"Prince Poniatowski, as chief owner of the big tracks, will try to cooperate with Keene & Whitney in the east. He intends to go east shortly to induce them to send some horses out here to race.

"The general opinion among racing men is that Ingleside will be reopened under the new management."

The special importance of the foregoing, if it

Winner—Br. g, by Potomac—Zamora. Went to post at 1:37. At post 6 minutes. Start poor. Won easily; second the same. It was a very poor lot, with Douro an easy best. He went right to the front and was under restraint all the way. Draughtsman ran a good race all the way. The only chance Lord Ogleby had to win was for the reins to break. Mitchell had him all over the track and rode a bad race. Zeus, off last, made up fifteen lengths in the first quarter and was close up all the way. His early effort told on him in the run through the stretch. Vesper Bell will do with a good rider. Fulminate ran his race, and so did Mordelmo.

Overweights—Douro, 3 pounds. Douro, place, 1 to 2; show, out. Draughtsman, place, 10 to 1; show, 5 to 1. Lord Ogleby, show, 2 to 5. Mordelmo, place, evens; show, 1 to 2.

Time, 12^h, 25, 51^h, 1:06.

Winner—Ch. c, by Eureka—Addie Mc. Went to post at 2:12. At post 5 minutes. Start good. Won easily. McAddie was clearly the best. He could have gone to the front at any time, was never extended and was going away at the finish. Likenees showed early speed, but not enough. La Valliere might have been second had she run straight. She was all over the track in the run through the stretch and Thompson could not keep her straight. Hand Vice ran to the mark. Piederich was interfered with by Erdenia, who bolted and carried him with her. Erdenia will bear watching; she showed plenty of speed in the stretch.

Scratched—19541 Telamon, 112; 19859 Mary McCoy, 109; (19953) Edgefield, 107; 19888 Tom Embry, 107; (19888) Bellario, 107; 19972 In Shot, 104; 20012 Trisagian, 98; 19912 Colchester, 98. Time, 12^h, 25, 38^h, 52^h, 1:19^h.

Winner—Br. m, by Barnes—Mary B. Went to post at 3:46. At post 3 minutes. Start fair. Won handily; second easily. Elsie Barnes was best in the mud, was given a good ride and was drawing away at the end. Dollie Wiethoff showed early speed, but tired in the going and quit at the end. Crossmolina was pinched off slightly after the start, but finished strongly. The Burlington Route ran a fair race. Spurs ran well to the stretch and then dropped back. Village Pride needed this race and will probably do better next time.

Elsie Barnes, place, 8 to 5; show, 2 to 5. Dollie Wiethoff, place, out. Crossmolina, show, 4 to 5.

Winner—Br. h, by Hayden Edwards—Bettie Blaise. Went to post at 3:14. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Bannockburn was much the best, raced the others into submission without trouble and then drew away and won as he pleased. He was very sore when going to the post. Einus' race shows that he is improving. He easily beat Alsike. The latter did not show his usual speed, but may not have liked the mud.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

is true, is that it probably portends peace between the San Francisco racing organizations and the reopening of the Ingleside track. It is closer to the city than Tanforan, and on that account more conveniently accessible for horse owners and the public alike, as it is reached by both train and electric car service. The suggested attempt to induce the Keenes and Mr.
Whitney to send their horses out to Frisco goes for about the value of the paper it was printed on. They are gentlemen who find abundant employment for their horses on the New York tracks, and do not regard with favor the money that comes from winter campaigning.

The Coney Island Jockey Club, through Secretary C. Fellowes, has issued its book for the autumn meeting, which opens at Sheephead Bay on Saturday, August 25. As usual, the star feature of the inaugural day will be the classic Futurity, for which one of the best fields on record is eligible, but nearly every racing day from then on will be signalized by the running of important stakes according to the following schedule:

Aug. 25—Fall Handicap, Futurity and Inaugural Steeplechase.

Aug. 27—Autumn, Maiden and Flying Handicap.

Aug. 28—The Woodcock and Dolphin Stakes.

Aug. 29—The Dash Stakes and Autumn Cup.

Aug. 30—The Partridge and Reapers Stakes.

Aug. 31—The Sapphire Stakes and Turf Handicap.

Sept. 1—The Flatbush Stakes and the Ocean
Handicap.

Sept. 3—The Autumn Stakes, Twin City Handicap and Westbury Steeplechase.

Sept. 4—The Flight Stakes and Russet Handicap.

Sept. 5—The Belles and September Stakes.

Sept. 6—The Golden Rod Stakes and Omnium
Handicap.

Sept. 7—The Oriole Stakes and Mineola Hurdle Race.

Sept. 8—The Great Eastern Handicap and Annual Champion Stakes.

Work at the new Kinloch track is progressing rapidly under the immediate supervision of president Lucas and manager Tate. There is not the least doubt that the course will be ready by September 1, when the initial day's racing will be given. The officials, except Col. Jack Chinn as starter, have not yet been announced, but president Lucas will see to it that the judges are learned in turf law and popular officials. Manager Tate predicts that the track will be fast. It is near completion. Applications for stable room are coming in and some of the best stables in the west will be represented.

WAYS OF SOME BOOKMAKERS.

As an aid in the investigation of races which look bad, it is a time-honored custom of racing officials to send for the bookmakers' sheets to find which penciler laid the longest prices
and took the most money against the beaten horse. This is supposed to prove, or at least indicate, that the bookie under suspicion had a guilty knowledge. There is a tradition that once on a time, away back in the dawn of racing, there was a bookmaker trapped in that way, but even prior to his trouble he was looked down upon by his associates as "not smart," and it was really the best thing in the world for him that he was ruled off. Ever since then the bookie who wanted to lay against a "dead one" usually prepared a nice little
"phony" sheet in advance of the race, and when the judges sought information, was able to produce incontrovertible evidence that he had held the "dead one" out flat, and laid against the winner.

Nowadays they don't even go to that trouble.
They simply enter the bets against the "lobster" on a separate slip, and turn their bona fide sheet over for the entertainment of the officials. Of course it proves their innocence.
One good, smart detective in the ring who knows bettors and bookies, owners and their connections and their methods of doing business, will beat all the inquests ever held after the game is pulled off and the profits acquired.
Furthermore, the latter day custom of paying bets on all races without regard to the possibility of fraud is a direct and positive encouragement of crookedness in racing.

The sharpers are assured that no matter whether or not any one is ruled off only the jockey who does the trick, the older heads that engineer all the schemes are secure in their position. If bets were declared off on all fraudulent races, and the conspirators thus deprived of their ill-gotten gains, there would be less inducement to cheat.—St. Louis Sporting News.

Went to post at 3:41. At post 7 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second driving. Trillo's win was almost a fluke, even if he did win easily. Sparrow Wing was seemingly interfered with by him on the far turn and almost thrown. She lost a half dozen lengths and was going strongly at the time. A claim of foul was not allowed. Villa V. also suffered when Sparrow Wing was hit. T. Burns was just making his run on the rail and was shut out, losing several lengths. He had to go around then and was closing strongly at the end. Myth stumbled in the first breakaway unseating his rider and ran away three furlongs. The delay at the post hurt Exit's chances.

Winner—B. f. by Magian—Satilla.
Went to post at 3:28. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won all out; second easily. Lyror Bell was best, but under a drive all through the stretch to stall off Golden Harvest. The latter had to come around her horses in the run home. She finished well in the middle of the track and would have won in a few more strides. Lizzie A. got third place in the last stride. Maggie W. showed much early speed, but tired in the stretch. This was her first race in some time and she may have been short. Edgeworth can do better.

bridora showed much the most speed and made every post a winning one. L. W. had to go all around his field, swung wide into the stretch and stood a drive all through the last quarter but

Genghis Kahn improved suddenly and came away on the turn, but he was doing his best at the end. He took the short route. Give and Take was on the outside all the way and lost a couple of lengths when rounding the turn into the stretch. Minch did well for him. Charley Heels was very nervous in the paddock, possibly because of being favorite, showed but little speed and was never dangerous. It was a tough lot.

Winner—Br. c. by Hanover—Spinnette.
Went to post at 2:15. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won driving and staggering; second, third and fourth the same. Hampshire navigated the going to the best advantage. He was the only horse in the race that did not swerve badly. The heavy going tired the field in the first quarter, and after that the horses went at a snail's pace. Ida V. was interfered with a half a dozen times, and was none too well ridden generally. Hanswurst darted from the extreme inside to the center of the track on the stretch turn. Jack Doyle showed a lot of speed, but when he stopped he stopped all over. Poyntz ran a fair race.

Winner—Ch. g. by Springbok—Emerald.
Went to post at 2:40. Off at the second break to a good start. Won in a long, hard drive; second, third and fourth were also under severe pressure. Irish Jewel ran a very game race and just did get to the wire in front. Olekma had some bad luck early, which was a great handicap to her. Tilly Ann perhaps should have won. For some reason Enos stopped riding her in the last twenty yards. Woodtrice was right there all the way. Floridan is a rogue. He acted badly on his way to the post, but showed a lot of speed in the race and seemed to be winning at the head of the stretch, where he ran out, carrying Della Ostrand with him. The latter did well as far as she went and likes the mud. Enos claimed the reason he stopped riding Tilly Ann was because his eyes were full of mud and he mistook the starter's box at the mile post for the timer's stand and pulled up.
Scratched—19907 Contractor Lynch, 99; 20023 Maclaren, 102; 17046 Jean Spencer, 97.

Went to post at 3:25. Off at the second break to a good start. Won easily; second whipped out. P. Partout felled cleanly, liked the going and showed plenty of speed. He is a shifty horse at the jumping game. Viking seemed to be going well in hand over the last jump, but quit under pressure at the end. Murphy lost a lot of ground by swinging wide from the steeplechase course on the main track. Reno did not like the going. Last Past was running well in hand when he fell and would probably have been a keen contender.

Went to post at 4:00. Off at the first break to a good start. Won cleverly; second, third and fourth were driving to the limit. Tyr is a good game youngster that is particularly fond of heavy going and under a good ride won like a good race horse. Bloss pinched Sortie off at the head of the stretch but the interference was too mild to call for judicial action. Sortie was hard ridden all the way and is not as good a colt as is the winner in the mud. Tootsie Green showed speed but was tiring badly at the end and barely lasted long enough to beat Leo Newell for third place. The latter finished with a rush on the outside.

Went to post at 4:30. Off at the second break to a good start. Won easily; the next two were doing their best. Miss Dooley broke fully in her stride and spread-eagled her field. Martha Fox repeated her honest performance of the day before. Joe Shelby was badly outrun in the first quarter but made up much ground after that. R. Jackson was more of a handicap than a help to Blue Dan. He took him wide on all the turns and seemed to be afraid to get near other horses. San Venado showed but little speed and ran a bad race. It was a very ordinary lot.

Went to post at 5:05. Off at the first break to a good start. Won easily; second and third the same. Pay the Fiddler showed the most speed and was never fully extended. He is a handy horse in heavy going when he runs kindly. Owensboro did his best. Grimes, from all indications, did not try a yard on Prestar. He went away from the post pulling up and never made a move all down the backstretch. The gelding moved up on his own courage on the far turn and Grimes, fearing he was going to win, deliberately pulled him up, and all through the stretch messed Prestar about badly. The judges suspended the boy pending further investigation. Barney F. showed speed but stopped almost to a walk at the end. The other two were always beaten off.

Overweights—Robert Latta, 44 pounds.
Pay the Fiddler, place, 3 to 5; show, out. Owensboro, place, 9 to 10; show, out. Prestar place, evens; show, 2 to 5.
